HIDDEN STORIES

HEALED
NOW

Every story has a hidden element that is not often shared.

This weekly program will take a deep dive by engaging in authentic conversations that move beyond our trials. Our guests are ordinary people sharing their stories of overcoming insurmountable odds. Each person has their own level of success that can provide inspiration to others.

Topics covered include Health, Community, Financial, Friends, Family, Spiritual and Career.

The mission is to share the hidden gems within challenging stories that serve as a beacon of hope and inspiration for others.

OUR HOST

For the last 20 years, Vicki has had the privilege of serving an array of high-matrixed organizations across the globe. Sitting as a senior level executive and serving as a visionary advisor, she has an eye for operational excellence that balances people, processes, and technology. Mrs. Hamilton delivers consultation services on a number of corporate issues which include but are not limited to:

- Transformational initiative
- Change management
- Leadership development
- Employee relations
- Regulation
- Compliance issues

Mrs. Hamilton has helped technology companies conceptualize, design, and execute innovative technology plans which have yielded a minimum ROI of $20M+. Her area of specialty encompasses strategic development and execution of innovations for technology companies across multiple disciplines. She partners with executive leadership to develop a broad range of organizational improvements through risk mitigation, cost management, and training and development.

For the last several years, Vicki has been invited to speak as a keynote speaker across the country on various platforms. As a change management expert with a solid track record of changing lives and taking organizations to another level; Vicki prides herself with having the natural gift of advancing organizations by working with their current management to develop a specific strategic plan of action to execute and achieve their goals. Simply put, Mrs. Hamilton works with organizations who need a proven strategic advisor to join their executive team to help bring clarity to their goals and develop a strategic plan of action so they can execute to achieve their company's strategic vision.
